More than 40% of Americans with life insurance coverage wish they had purchased their policies at a younger age[†]

Over half of U.S. households rely on dual incomes (54%), and, for many, losing one income could be devastating to household finances^{††}

Meet Rich

CHOOSE

Rich signs up for Allstate Benefits Group Term to Age 100 Life Insurance with an Accelerated Death Benefit for Long Term Care Rider during his employer’s Open Enrollment.

USE

Several months later, Rich suffers a stroke. Here’s his story:

Enrollment

Rich enrolls in Group Term to Age 100 with a Long Term Care Rider during his annual benefits enrollment

Retirement

A few years later, he retires and continues to pay his monthly premiums directly to Allstate Benefits

Illness

At the age of 75, Rich has a stroke and is admitted to the hospital. After seven days, he is discharged to go home

Assistance

Afterwards, he needs help with bathing and dressing, but doesn't want to put that burden on his family

Caregiver

He reviews his policy and rider coverage and determines that he will be able to afford at-home health care

CLAIM

Rich files a claim on his Group Term to Age 100 Life Insurance coverage with the Accelerated Death Benefit for Long Term Care Rider along with documentation from his doctor (see How to File a Claim with Allstate Benefits on page 4) and chooses the Monthly Payment option. Allstate Benefits reviews his claim and approves his request.

- After the 90-day waiting period, Rich begins receiving a percentage of his Group Term to Age 100 Life Insurance death benefit each month while receiving long-term care services.
 - He can use the monthly payments to help pay for his long-term care expenses, such as caregivers in his home for four hours each day.
- The restoration of benefits feature of his Accelerated Death Benefit for Long Term Care Rider will automatically restore his death benefit to the pre-acceleration amount of his coverage prior to filing his claim.
 - The extension of benefits feature of his Accelerated Death Benefit for Long Term Care Rider will also extend his monthly payments for each month that he continues to receive qualified long-term care services, up to the period equal to the original benefit term.

Here are some of the ways the monthly long-term care payment can be used

Finances

Can help eliminate the need to deplete savings or retirement plans, take out a loan, or rely on family members for care

Care

Can help pay for at-home health care, an adult day care center, a nursing care facility, or an assisted living facility

Expenses

Can help pay for a doctor, registered nurse, or licensed practical nurse as well as meals, therapy, or room and board charges

The examples above detail fictional thought processes and needs; your individual needs and reasons for coverage may vary.

Benefits

GROUP TERM TO AGE 100 LIFE INSURANCE PROVIDES:

Term Life Insurance Death Benefit - a lump-sum death benefit is payable to your designated beneficiary when you die before the certificate anniversary on or after you reach age 100

ACCELERATED DEATH BENEFIT FOR LONG TERM CARE RIDER BENEFIT

Accelerated Death Benefit for Long Term Care with Restoration of Benefits and Extension of Benefits - when filing a claim, choose between a monthly advance of the death benefit or a lump-sum payment while receiving qualified long-term care services after a 90-day elimination period when certified chronically ill by a licensed health care practitioner (see the Death Benefit Amount and Chronically Ill Definitions on page 4). Not available on certificate coverage purchased for a child

- Monthly Payment - a monthly advance of 6% of the death benefit is payable for up to 17 months and 34 months with the extension of benefits
- Lump-Sum Payment - a one-time lump-sum death benefit is payable. Rider coverage will terminate upon payment of this benefit

The restoration benefit restores the death benefit to the pre-acceleration amounts, and the extension benefit extends the death benefit for a period equal to the original benefit term. The Lump-Sum Payment option is not available with the extension benefit

Realities of Long-Term Care Expenses

Long-term care is expensive, but there are many types of long-term care and a wide range of associated expenses. The most common type of long-term care is provided by a professional health aide in your own home at a cost of about $20 per hour.* Benefits provided by the rider can help cover those costs—and in most cases, at a much lower premium than traditional stand-alone long-term care insurance

Advantages of Accelerated Death Benefit for Long-Term Care Rider Coverage

- Rates are based on the insured's age at the coverage effective date and are guaranteed not to change
- No separate evidence of insurability required for the rider
- Coverage can be issued to your spouse (up to age 70) on a separate policy
- Coverage is portable, meaning you can keep it after you retire or leave your employer

Rider Enhancements

- Inflation Protection - annually increases the monthly accelerated death benefit payable by 5% per year while the rider is in force, up to the maximum remaining death benefit amount. Does not increase the one-time lump-sum benefit payable under the rider
- Non-Forfeiture Credit - available if the rider terminates due to non-payment of premium starting at the end of the third year. The paid-up credit is equal to the sum of all premiums paid for the rider or a one-time monthly payment of the monthly accelerated death benefit (whichever is greater), subject to the maximum remaining death benefit amount, and is payable while receiving qualified long-term care services. The restoration of accelerated death benefits and the monthly extension of accelerated death benefits are not available under this non-forfeiture benefit
